VOL. XVI. NO. 14

WRANGELL, ALASKA, THURSDAY, APRIL 19, 1917

PRICE TEN CENTS

FRENCH TAKE 17,000 UNWOUNDED PRISONERS

PARIS, April 19.—Since the beginning of the drive on the southern end of the battle line the French have captured 17,000 unwounded prisoners and 75 cannon. Fighting has extended over many sectors the Germans launching numerous powerful attacks all of which were put down by the weight of the German losses.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The Russian provisional government will be given assurance that this government will under no conditions consent to a separate peace bill permitting the Allies to recruit their own subjects in this country.

BOSTON, April 19.—The Navy Yard officials deny that there has been a naval engagement.

Washington, April 18.—Madame Sarah Bernhardt is dangerously ill from infection of the kidneys.

Washington, April 18.—Senor don Ignacio Bonillar was today formally accepted as ambassador from Mexico.

New York, April 18.—The Mayor has announced that beginning with May 1, all night liquor licenses will be cancelled until the end of the war.

Albany, April 18.—The bill recommended by the governor to repeal boxing was adopted, passing the senate assembly by a vote of 56 to 24.

Seattle, April 18.—The body of Florence Wehn, wife of James Wehn, the sculptor, and daughter of Policeman Paul Hawbris, was found in a gulch west of Wheeler street this morning. The murder was apparently committed by thugs. Wehn is the designer of the principal monuments of Seattle.

Flag on Mount Dewey

Old Glory is now in evidence in Wrangell as never before. Almost every house has its flag. But there is one mammoth flag which represents the town as a whole. It is 10x20 feet in size and was hoisted last Friday on Mount Dewey. A tall spruce tree was trimmed of its limbs, and Old Glory now waves proudly several hundred feet above the town.

The flag was presented to the town by Blind Tom, an old Indian doctor, who, with his crippled wife, lives near the power plant.

It was no small job to climb a large tree in the cold wind and convert it into a flag pole, and the party of young men who accomplished the difficult task surely deserve great praise. It was only another expression of the patriotism which every one feels. Passengers on boats coming into this port since the flag was raised have commented upon the pleasing impression it gives one to see the stars and stripes waving in the breeze from the summit of Mount Dewey at whose base is the peaceful little town of Wrangell resting like a favorite child upon a loving mother's knee.

Wild Goats Wanted

The Boone & Crockett Club of New York City, through the U. S. Biological Survey and the U. S. Forest Service, has requested W. G. Weigle, Forest Supervisor of the Tongass National Forest, to make arrangements for the capture of twelve or fifteen live wild goats on the mainland to be transferred to Admiralty Island. Since Admiralty Island is exceptionally well suited for the maintenance of wild goats we hope this project may be carried out. Any person wishing to enter into a contract to capture all or part of the number desired should write for particulars to W. G. Weigle, Forest Supervisor, Ketchikan, Alaska.

Notice

The Wrangell Home Guard will meet tonight, weather permitting, at the Wrangell Hotel for a drill in the streets. If the weather is unfavorable the Guard will meet at the Rink. In case it is necessary to meet at the Rink members will please bring tennis or rubber soled shoes.

J. G. GRANT,
Commanding.

SUMPTUOUS BANQUET

Retiring Mayor Entertains Members of Old and New Administrations

J. G. Grant, who was mayor of Wrangell the past year, surely made a good fellow of himself last Thursday night when he gave a most sumptuous banquet to the outgoing and incoming councilmen and town officers.

Following the organization and adjournment of the new council Mr. Grant extended an invitation to the members of the old and new councils to accompany him to the Wrangell hotel dining room. The hospitable invitation was cheerfully accepted by all present. Every one knew that there was something good in store, but no one expected such an elaborate banquet as was served. The very best had been provided with all the trimmings.

Mr. Pritchett acted as toastmaster. The first toast was drunk to "Our New Mayor." And another toast was drunk to the health of Mr. Grant, the retiring mayor.

Mayor Matheson was the first to be called upon for a speech. The new mayor declared that after dinner speaking was not his forte, but the cleverness of his remarks tended to disprove his estimate of his own qualifications. From Mayor Matheson's address it was plain that he has his heart in the task ahead of him in administering the affairs of the town for the coming year.

E. P. Lynch, aged 81, and a member of Mr. Grant's family, was the only guest not connected with the municipal administration except the Sentinel reporter. A toast was drunk to the health of Mr. Lynch.

L. C. Patenaude was requested to respond to the toast "The Old Council." He was very modest in his praise of the old council, but eloquent in his praise of their retiring mayor.

H. D. Campbell spoke on behalf of the school board, his remarks being well received.

Mrs. M. O. Johnson, the new member of the school board, was unavoidably absent on account of being on the bird day program. A toast was drunk to Mrs. Johnson's health.

Before the evening came to a close every one present had spoken. The spirit of good fellowship was very manifest, and felicitations were the order of the evening.

In closing the chairman proposed a toast to the health of President Wilson, everyone drinking to the bottom. This toast was followed by the singing of America. In bidding their host goodnight all expressed their thanks to Mr. Grant for his exceptional hospitality and the most pleasant evening they had spent in a long time.

Bird Day Observance

The bird lecture which was given by the Civic Club at the gym Thursday night was very well attended. The program was well received and Mr. Gray's lecture, which comprised interesting information concerning bird-life in its various stages, and the habits and value of birds, was listened to closely by those present. The club is greatly indebted to Mr. Gray for his willingness to give the community the benefit of his knowledge of this subject, and to Mrs. Burnet, Miss Amanda Horgheim, Miss Grace Wigg and Mr. Pennycook for their help with the program. The committees having the affair in charge were: Speaker, Miss Breece and Mrs. J. B. Borge; program, Mrs. Horgheim, Mrs. Coulter, and Mrs. Case, and hall, Miss Woods and Mrs. Carlson.

PATRIOTIC PARADE SUNDAY

The parade Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Redmen was a magnificent expression of Wrangell's enthusiasm, loyalty and patriotism.

At 2 o'clock the Redmen, in regalia, marched from their hall to the dock where the parade was formed. Arthur J. Downer was requested by the Redmen to act as marshal of the day.

The parade was formed in the following order: boy scouts, Improved Order of Redmen, ladies, men. No previous arrangements had been made to have the boy scouts march as an organization, and it was not possible on a moment's notice to muster out but a portion of their membership.

There were between three and four hundred persons in the parade.

A number of flags were carried in the parade, and in order to give the affair something of a military aspect A. R. Hanson beat time on a snare drum during the march.

As the procession passed down Front street it passed a number of colored people who had arrived in town the day before and were standing on the sidewalk. That these people recognized the flag of their country, and are loyal to it, was very noticeable when all of them took off their hats and stood with bared heads as the procession, which moved under the national colors, passed by.

The procession marched down Front street beyond the machine shop, then north to the Episcopal church; thence west on Church street to McKinnon avenue; thence south into Front street, and east again to the Rink where a mass meeting was held.

F. E. Bronson acted as chairman, and after a few remarks introduced F. H. Gray, the speaker of the day.

Mr. Gray's address was that of a man whose advanced years have added strength to his loyalty and devotion to the government of the United States and the principles for which it is founded. As he spread out his hands over the flag on the altar before him and told how his grandfather had died for that flag, and that he therefore had a blood interest in that flag, he made his hearers feel that they were looking upon an emblem as sacred as the lives of those who had died that it might continue to wave over a free people. Then recounting the lawless operations of Germany, Mr. Gray said: "We will suffer in silence no longer. We are now ready to fight until German autocracy and German militarism are overthrown, leaving the Kaiser's throne to crumble to dust." The speaker was frequently interrupted by enthusiastic cheering of his patriotic utterances.

Following the address by Mr. Gray the chairman introduced Mr. Arthur J. Downer of the United States Army, who has patriotically consented to act as drill master.

Mr. Downer explained that at the routing mass meeting held at the Redmen's hall on Monday night of last week more than one hundred persons signed a resolution for the organization of a home guard. But owing to a number of the signers being over forty-five years of age it was necessary to make another list in order to form a militia that would be available for active service, and thereby place Wrangell in the ranks of the nation's war forces.

Upon concluding his remarks, Mr. Downer requested those desiring to enlist for active service to line up. Forty-nine men under forty-five signed up for active membership, while there were twenty one signing up for the reserve list.

There was a little surprise on the part of some when two local Japanese came forward and enlisted in the active list. By this act they expressed their attitude toward their adopted country with more emphasis than they could possibly have done by any spoken words.

The enlistment was made in the presence of a large number of spectators, and was impressive, but was devoid of anything of a funeral aspect.

As one saw gallant young men, willing to die, if necessary, for their country, walk proudly forward (with nothing of the bravado spirit), and in a dignified manner calmly place their names on the military roster resting on the flag, one naturally thought of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, while at the same time a rebirth of Americanism of 1776 was being enacted before his eyes.

At the conclusion of the enlistments the members of the militia and the reserves and the spectators all joined in singing the Star-Spangled Banner. This grand old song, which is an inspiration in itself, came like a spontaneous expression from the patriotic gathering as their voices rang out with the words:

"And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave,
"O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

The officers of the Wrangell Guard are as follows:

Captain—J. G. Grant.
1st Lieutenant—Dr. W. I. Pigg.
2nd Lieutenant—Leonard Campbell.
1st Sergeant—Weston Dalgity.
2nd Sergeants—W. A. Lucas, Ralph Hall.
Two Corporals—George Sylvester, Charles Moore.

The enlistment to date are as follows:

Active List:
J. G. Grant, W. I. Pigg, W. H. Warren, C. J. Kalkbrenner, Geo. Barlow, Clarence Lewis, Cyril Choquette, Jerry Grant Shurick, Ed E. Kalkin, N. Nussbaumer, Wm. Taylor, Jr., Alvin Ralph Hall, Alfred S. Berg, Edward J. La Bounty, Lloyd E. Dalgity, Louis F. Wigg, Ellery C. Carlson, Charles Moore, Weston Dalgity, Ernest Campbell, J. J. McTague, George Huth, Leonard Campbell, George Elton Barnes, Harold Duggan, J. A. Bender, E. F. Carlstrom, B. Y. Grant, W. A. Lucas, Freedom B. Leonard, David F. Lewis, Fred F. Lewis, Harry Ferguson, August Davis, W. Patterson, Earl West, Oscar Carlson, Charles Benjamin, L. A. Olsen, Arnt Sorset, A. B. Pennycook, E. S. Jernigan, S. C. Shurick, A. Royalty, Mike Loftus, E. P. Clark, M. O. Johnson, E. B. Mitchell, Lawrence Horgheim, Bill Fukuda, I. D. Madasum.

Reserves

E. P. Lynch, Wm. G. Thomas, F. E. Gingsass, George H. Barnes, H. P. Corser, Fred H. Gray, Alfred Abrnstedt, M. Katzenmeyer, H. D. Campbell, C. M. Coulter, A. Verratt, W. E. Lloyd, Al Osborn, Oscar Willett, Wm. H. Lewis, Wm. Hood, J. E. Worden, Frederick Wigg, L. T. Watson, C. H. Bryant.

Sixty-three thousand dollars in three weeks is the record production made last summer at Marshall city.

NEW TOWN COUNCIL NOW IN CHARGE

The change in the municipal administration took place at the town hall last Thursday evening. The last meeting of the old council was called to order by Mayor Grant. The report of the clerk of the election was read, a motion was made that instead of canvassing the election returns the report of the clerk of the election be accepted as official. The credentials of the newly elected members were presented, accepted and filed.

The annual report of the chief of the Department was read and ordered filed.

The annual report of the town treasurer was read and approved.

The annual report of the treasurer of the school board was read and approved.

The annual report of the town clerk was read and approved.

Mayor Grant then made a farewell speech to the old council in which he stated that he believed that Wrangell had never had a council which had given the town a better administration than he believed that each member had worked for what he believed to be the town's best interest.

The old council then adjourned sine die.

The new council then proceeded to organize. Former Mayor Grant escorted the new mayor to his seat. Before proceeding to business Mayor Matheson made a neat little speech expressing his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him, and pledging himself to work with the council for the town's advancement.

The first business transacted by the new council was to conduct a lottery. Mayor Matheson stated that the law required that it should be determined by lottery which three of the six council men would serve two years. A drawing was held and J. G. Borge, C. M. Coulter and J. G. Grant each drew slips marked two years.

The Mayor then appointed the following committees for the ensuing year:

Streets—C. M. Coulter, M. McKinney, Geo. H. Barnes.
Fire—J. G. Grant, Arnt Sorset, J. G. Borge.

Health and Police—Geo. H. Barnes, J. G. Borge, J. G. Grant.
Finance—J. G. Borge, J. G. Grant, C. M. Coulter.

A communication was read from the fire department giving Fire Chief Carlson their unanimous endorsement and recommending his reappointment. The Mayor then appointed Oscar Carlson fire chief.

The appointment of a town marshal and a water commissioner were postponed till the next regular meeting. This was done on account of the probability that some changes will be made in the duties of the marshal and the water commissioner.

Atoms vs. Spirit.

They gathered under the fragments and two baskets were filled. What thoughts have remained over from the Easter celebration? Is it not the thought that we are atoms, and our business is, to rule over them, and be greater than any law that controls them? The thought will be developed at the Service Sunday evening. This will be the first of a series of lectures on Man's Place in Nature. The lectures will continue during the Easter season. They will help you. Come. St. Philip's Church.

Few realize how RUST threatened the extinction of "Steel Ranges." Sheet metal, steel or iron is the ideal material for range bodies and ovens. But RUST would destroy it! Rust that worked from the inside not outside.

So there the MONARCH built its defence—of VITREOUS ENAMEL, a material you know from every day household experience is not effected by Rust. Every inch of the MONARCH'S flues is covered with this non-rusting protection.

You can enjoy the satisfaction of cooking on a MONARCH Range year in and year out. No danger of breakdown—no danger of rusting out, just continued satisfactory service. We don't know for how long! But from the looks of this splendid Range we'd guess a life time.

Come in—look it over and see if you don't agree with us

New U. S. Marshal

JUNEAU, April 14.—Following the escape of Krause, United States Marshal Harry Bishop wired his resignation to the Department of Justice. It was immediately accepted and Judge Jennings of Juneau was authorized to make an appointment. J. M. Tanner of Skagway was appointed, the appointment becoming effective at once. Tanner accepted.

The new marshal was a member of the Territorial Senate at its last term. He was defeated for reelection by Senator J. R. Heckman of Ketchikan.

Years ago Tanner held an appointment as U. S. Marshal.

The Tolovana output for the current year will reach $1,750,000 in placer gold, according to the estimate of Senator O. P. Gaustad, of Fairbanks now at Juneau, who is interested in the sawmill business in that district, among other things. "The Tolovana is a good little camp," said Senator Gaustad, "and it is being worked fast. It will be worked out within a few years, unless more good ground is discovered, at the rate they are going now. Practically all the pay that has been discovered is on Livingood creek. That creek this year will yield $1,750,000. There are about 350 people in the district."

"The Spokesman"

The newest Alaska newspaper to reach our exchange table is The Spokesman, published at Juneau every Sunday morning. The new paper disclaims being an organ. Local and territorial matters are dealt with. It talks out loud, the first issues being on the free lance order.

Last week for the second time in 18 years, religious services were held at Hope, Rev. H. C. Munroe, of the Community church at Seward officiating. He also organized a non-sectarian Sunday School.

Krause Killed

JUNEAU, April 16.—Edward Krause, who was sentenced to be hanged on May 11 for the murder of James Plunkett near Wrangell, and who escaped from jail last Friday night, was shot dead at 2:30 Sunday afternoon at Doy's Cove, Admiralty island, fifteen miles from Juneau by Arvin Frantzen, a homesteader. Frantzen knew of Krause's escape and was on the lookout for him. Krause and Frantzen were acquaintances, and it is believed that Krause regarded Frantzen as a friend, and expected aid from him.

According to Frantzen's story he was looking out from the window of his home Sunday afternoon when he discovered a man in a small boat coming ashore. He told his wife to take a broom and go out in front of the house and pretend to be sweeping. Frantzen then got his rifle and stood inside the door which was slightly ajar and watched Krause as he approached the house. When Krause was within 30 feet of the house Frantzen stepped outside, and leveling his rifle on Krause called out "Is that you Krause?" Krause answered "yes," and at the same time threw his head back so that his face could be seen. Frantzen commanded him to stand still. Krause started to turn around and as he did so Frantzen shot him in the body. As he fell Frantzen fired a second shot, the ball entering the back of the head and coming out through his right eye. Krause's body was taken to Juneau next morning.

Frantzen will receive the reward of $1,000 that was offered by Governor Strong.

Frantzen came to Admiralty island from Nome. He has an Eskimo wife and six children.

Trapping Season Closes

The trapping season closed last Saturday for all fur-bearing animals except bear and wolf. Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather of the past winter for trapping, the catch of furs in this vicinity is reported about up to the average. This season's furs are also said to be especially good, the mink more notably so. —Petersburg Report.

The Douglas Public School is to have a Victrola, the purchase money having been raised through the sale of tags and boxes at a social recently given by the Parent-Teacher organization.
